Ordinations

The ordination of new presbyteral and diaconal ministers is a highlight of the Conference week. Having been received into full Connexion at the service of Sunday Worship in the morning, presbyters, deacons, family and friends travel to local places of worship around Telford to be ordained. Ordination Services will take place on the afternoon of Sunday 29 June. You can find details of the venues here.

Some of the ordinands have shared the story of their journey to ministry.

Wear Red

Many experts recognise that there are red lines in international and humanitarian law that have been crossed in the Israeli government response to the Hamas attacks on Israel. To show solidarity with the Palestinian people who are suffering the consequences, members of Conference are invited to wear red on Wednesday 2 July. A photo will be taken at lunchtime and all those taking part will be invited to participate.

Beckly Lecture

Join us for the Beckly Lecture 2025, at Methodist Conference in Telford, or online.

Anthony Reddie, Professor of Black Theology at the University of Oxford, will be speaking on the topic: 'Whiteness is the Sea, not the Shark: a postcolonial critique of British Methodism'. It will take place at 6.45pm on Monday 30 June.

Glass fusing and poetry retreats

"We've recognised that buildings designed for contemplation and community gathering can serve these purposes in ways the original Victorian builders never imagined."

The transformation into the Lakeside Creative Arts Centre is an audacious approach to church regeneration. Newmillerdam Methodist Church embraced artistic activities and gained a new space in the community.

Finding God in the waves

"I usually go early morning. I like to go just while it's still dark, pitch black. I have a rock and I sit on it and watch as the sky turns into pre-dawn, half-light, first light, sunrise. It's magical."

Starting a New Place for New People project can be challenging. Pioneer Ian Stimpson shares his journey of coming up with the idea of Sea Soul in the Newcastle District.

AI experiences survey

The AI Working Group is charged with identifying the theological and pastoral issues AI raises; exploring how it might support or complicate traditional ministry practices; and report back with both interim guidance and a more comprehensive set of proposals at the 2026 Methodist Conference.

We're asking people from across the Methodist Church to share their experiences and opinions of AI by filling out our survey. This will help inform the Working Group's guidance and final report back to Conference.
